

I have been a listener of K-Love 88.9 FM radio station in Oklahoma Cityh since it first came on the air several years ago. K-Love serves as a wonderful place for my children and I to listen to music that is encouraging and positive. I don't have to worry when my kids are listening that they may hear songs or comments that are of a mature or violent subject matter. I also travel to several states with my job and I am able to listen to K-Love in the other cities where I do business. K-Love is the only FM Christian station in Oklahoma City that plays the music that I love to listen to and my kids love it as well. We listen to K-Love all day, every day. If K-Love were to be displaced by an LPFM, it would be devastating to our entire family. I believe in the message and music of K-Love so much that we have been financial supporters of K-Love for 5 years. We are glad it is a non-commerical station and we are willing to support this station to keep it available for us and all the citizens of our city. Although K-Love is a nationally broadcast station, they do provide up to date information regarding events in the Oklahoma City area and their news reporting is as good as other stations on the air. I believe that K-Love has provided a tremendous service to the public because it is the only FM radio station where we know that we can find clean, safe, positive music and there is never a need for the infamous "7 second delay" that the FCC requires for all stations due to vulgar or inappropriate content on the air. With all of the other stations that are on the radio, why would we take away one of the only stations that adheres to FCC guidelines and has such loyal listeners that we pay to keep it on air? I hope you will reconsider expanding LPFM so that it would not take a priority over existing FM translator service. My family and friends that listen to K-Love want to keep it available for many years to come. Thank you for taking my comments in to consideration. Sincerely, David Cline, Oklahoma City, OK
